

CANADIAN FOOTBALL MATCH.

Experts Will See Hamilton and Ottawa
Play at Van Cortlandt Park To-day.

Probably every one of the big colleges of the East as well as some of the Western institutions will have representatives at Van Cortlandt Park this afternoon to witness the Canadian football match which will be played between the Hamilton Tigers of Hamilton, Ontario, and the Ottawas of Ottawa, Canada, the teams having been brought here by The New York Herald to set forth the advantages of the game over the American college game as played in this country.

It is said for the Canadian game that it eliminates most of the features which have been set forth against the intercollegiate style of play, and still retains the spectacular interest along the same lines as has always been the case. In view of the recent agitation against the present gridiron game and the discussion among the football enthusiasts for modifications looking to greater safety in playing the game, it is probable that Van Cortlandt Park will have a gathering of experts such as is seldom brought together.

In addition to bettering the present game, there is the underlying desire on the part of some to have football rules the same throughout Canada and the United States, and thus make it possible in the future to bring about a series of international matches. The game this afternoon starts at 2 P. M.
