

Canadian Football Research Society

The Canadian Football Research Society is a not-for-profit that is designed to promote, develop and encourage the study of Canadian Football as a significant national and international athletic and popular social institution.

This Society is operated solely by the group's members who volunteer their time.

Through membership dues, donations and grants, the group is able to disseminate information and maintain a website.

CFRS MANDATE:

To promote, develop and encourage the study of Canadian Football as a significant international athletic and popular social institution

To establish an accurate historical account of Canadian Football through the years

To assist in the dissemination of the findings and studies derived from research
